

VACANCY

FIELD SERVICE ENGINEER

We are looking for an experienced Engineer to carry out routine servicing, installations and repairs to all types of equipment manufactured and factored by the Company. Other key responsibilities include assisting with sales related support issues, providing feedback regarding contract renewals and assisting with exhibitions as required.

You will complete all service related documentation promptly and accurately and will also maintain a professional image for the company at all times.

We are looking for an experienced mechanical and electronics engineer with excellent IT skills. You must have good planning & organising, problem solving and customer care skills.

The territory you will cover is the North of England and you will also provide back-up cover for other Field Service Engineers as and when required.

A full job description is available on request.

Interested? Apply in writing to the Haag-Streit UK Human Resources Department by emailing kennedy.reed@haag-streit.com